Newspaper Headlines

2007, color copies

This project allows any participant to convey messages that are underreported or unsaid to the public at large. The alternative front pages for USA Today are available on my website for download. Anyone can download a completed or blank front page, create and print it on a color printer, tape it to a newspaper, and stick it in the window of a newspaper-vending box. Submitted photos with dates, first names, and news box locations will be posted on-line and put up at ThreeWalls and The Oakland Art Gallery.

90 Seconds of Memory (Part One)

2007, video

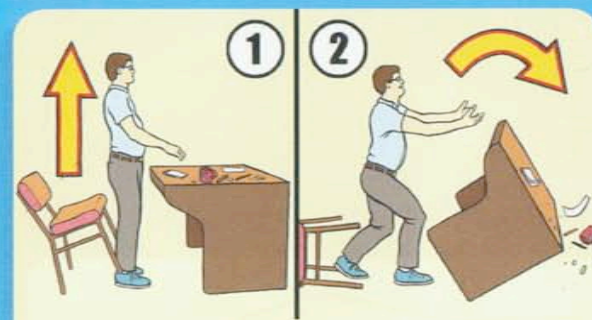

How does memory function? What are the similarities and differences between individuals thought patterns? How does the theme to CHiP's go? In this video I give people 90 seconds to remember all they can of a particular category of popular culture. I will be recording people for the duration of my residency. Sign up at the desk or send an email for a day and time to participate.

CUT ALONG FOLD

Business Reply Pamphlet

2006 (ongoing), color copy

Ever wonder what to do with your junk mail? Why do they send us this crap? What kind of society are we building here anyway? This 2 x 5.25", sixteen-page pamphlet is produced to put inside the postage-paid, business-reply envelopes that come with junk mail offers. Please bring your postage paid envelopes to ThreeWalls any time until July 1st. Every envelope collected will be stuffed with the pamphlet and mailed back to its original company.

CUT ALONG FOLD

Free guide to local business

Here at Walgreens we understand how any national chain-store is able to destroy locally owned businesses.

We want to help you in finding those local stores so you don't have to shop here. Please ask our staff for a guide or directions to local businesses near your home or office.

Special Supplement!
